EyeCare Partners Acquires Warrior Eye Care

ST. LOUIS, MO – June 18, 2018 – EyeCare Partners, LLC (ECP) is pleased to announce its acquisition of Warrior Eye Care, the Warrior, Alabama, optometry practice of Dr. Faye Andrews, O.D.

Warrior Eye Care has been the trusted provider of vision care products and personalized optometric services in Warrior, Alabama, for more than 24 years. The practice offers comprehensive vision exams and specializes in the diagnosis and treatment of a wide array of eye diseases. “Dr. Andrews has built a highly reputable practice over the last two and a half decades, and her addition to the ECP team immediately improves our ability to provide great patient care in Jefferson County and beyond,” says Dr. James Wachter, Chief Professional Officer of ECP.

Dr. Andrews is similarly excited to be joining ECP. According to Dr. Andrews, “I wanted to form a relationship with an organization of like-minded individuals who would see what I had done to provide the best eye care I was capable of, and be able to continue in the same direction. I found that ECP provided the same kind of care to my patients, who I have been devoted to throughout my career.”

In response to questions regarding the integration process, Dr. Andrews noted, “The entire organization at ECP has been driven to make sure there is no interruption in services offered to my patients, who have honored and trusted me with their care.”

Kelly McCrann, Chief Executive Officer of ECP, added, “ECP is continually focused on expanding its geographic footprint with high quality, full-scope medical optometry practices. Warrior Eyecare is just that, and we are thrilled to have Dr. Andrews and the Warrior staff join the ECP family.”
